

Philosophy and Photography

Where we live...the outer and the inner worlds

SEDONA PHILOSOPHY CIRCLE

Community, Conversation, Connection

Saturday, October 4
1:30 – 3:00 p.m.

Tickets: $10

www.sedonafilmfestival.org or call 928-282-1177

Perspective shapes what we see and how we see it. The micro and the macro are vantages that give us insight because they are different from the normal view. Here is your

Questions? 928-274-8737

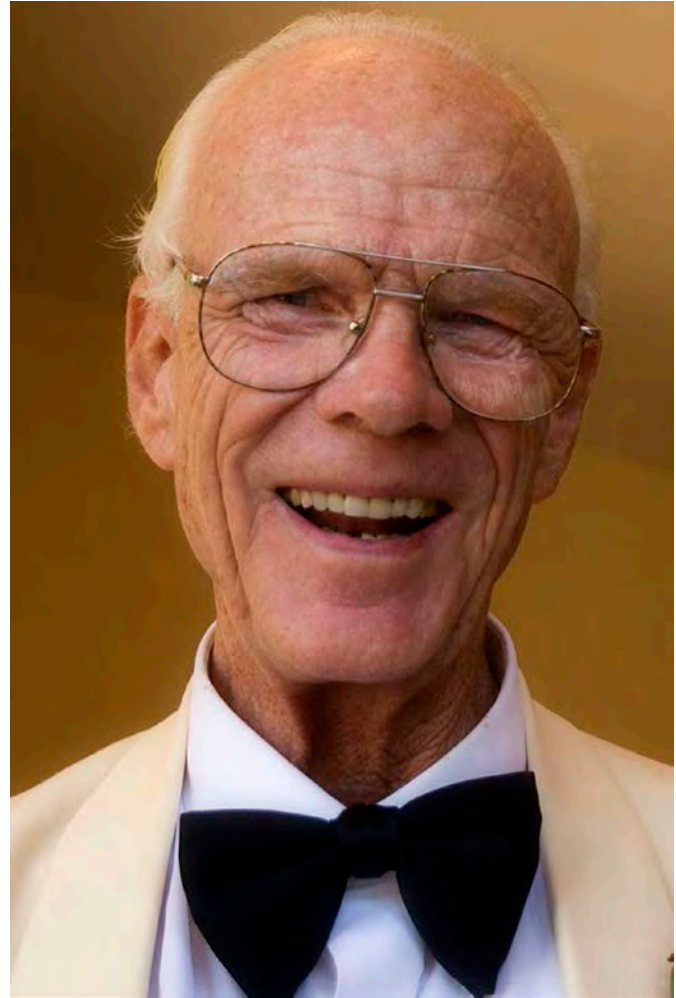

info@sedonaphilosophycircle.com

2030 State Route 89A, Sedona

MARY D FISHER  THEATRE

Ted Grussing has been sharing his photography with friends and admirers for over 12 years. His work has been published in Arizona Highways, Sojourn, Momentum, appears on Sedona.Biz, his Verde Independent Blog, of course his own blog, and has been used by the Grand Canyon Trust, National Park Conservation Association, National Park Service, Arizona Geological Survey, Arizona Game and Fish, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Geological Survey, Sedona Airport Authority, and for many other commercial and charitable causes, including Philosophy in the Public Interest. Ted's range is expansive and includes the whimsical, serene, and awe-inspiring. The images, however, do not stand alone. They are accompanied by stories from his life and inspirational quotes, most often from Max Ehrmann. What we see and what we read influences the way we see the world. Ted's work encourages people to see nature and one another with love and wonder. Much more than an art, Ted's work is an approach to life. His 1,500+ fans write him often for sharing his talent and wisdom. Join us for a chance to talk with Ted about his work while viewing it at the intimate Mary D. Fisher Community Theatre.

I bring but this one common thought, my life has wrought;
 That from the dregs of drear despair, still everywhere
 There is a joy I yet may sip – Tis comradeship
 With all mankind, the high and low
 I know.
 --Max Ehrmann

Saturday, September 6, 2014
 1:30 – 3:00 p.m.
 Mary D. Fisher Theatre
 2030 State Route 89A, Sedona
Life...ours and other creatures

Saturday, October 4, 2014
 1:30 – 3:00 p.m.
 Mary D. Fisher Theatre
 2030 State Route 89A, Sedona
Where we live...the outer and the inner worlds

Saturday, November 1, 2014
 1:30 – 3:00 p.m.
 Mary D. Fisher Theatre
 2030 State Route 89A, Sedona
The abstract and the imagined...the artist unleashed