

Second Edition

Howard Hughes: Madman, Genius, or Both

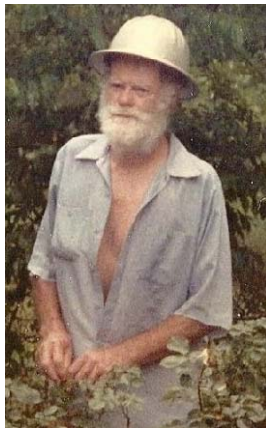

After eight years of extensive research and finally coming to the conclusion that Eva McLelland's wild tale was absolutely accurate; the book "Boxes" was published in 2010, a true story of intrigue and mystery that rewrites history.

During 1972 and 1973 Howard Hughes' description bounced between a long finger-nailed mentally incompetent man and a well-groomed articulate businessman. Confusion ran rampant as two distinctive descriptions of Hughes spread throughout in the media waves. History changing secrets are finally revealed. . . Hughes assumed another identity and sought refuge in the woods of Alabama for 25 years after his presumed death in 1976.

The mystery is unveiled as Eva McLelland, Howard's wife for 31 years, reveals intricate details of the life she shared with Hughes. Married in Panama on May 13, 1970, she realized there was extreme mystery in her new husband's existence. However, several years had passed prior to her learning that she was actually married to Howard Hughes. Even with Hughes' idiosyncrasies, Eva was loyal to the end; preserving his secret, while living a semi-nomadic existence.

Eva McLelland, 1970

Howard Hughes 1991

For protection Hughes acquired the identity of a former CIA employee, Nik Nicely. Hughes, alias "Nik," had many reasons to seek refuge and the "resources" to be successful.

The publication of the first edition lead to new pictures, evidence, and information. The 2nd edition was released March 23, 2016.

Douglas Wellman and Mark Musick authored and researched both books.

Riveting interviews and dynamic presentations can be arranged:

Douglas Wellman 435-275-2174
Major General (ret.) Mark Musick 402-217-5475

Doug Wellman, Eva McLelland, Mark Musick